

Third Grade

We have gotten off to a good start this year here in the third grade. Over the past few weeks we have been getting into the new school curriculum, and over all the students are doing well with it. We jumped right into multiplication, because that is where we start, and the class is doing great. They are catching on and moving forward. We are also studying maps in social studies. The students can name the different parts of a map, tell different maps apart, and can locate places on the maps. As for science the students have already grown their own crystals, and are in the process of creating their own rocks.
